U. S. Breaks Relations With Red Bulgaria

Diplomats Recalled; Climax Of Attacks On Minister Heath

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—The United States broke diplomatic relations today with Communist Bulgaria.

American Minister Donald R. Heath and other U. S. representatives in Sofia were ordered home.

The break climaxes a dispute with Bulgaria over Communist attacks on Heath and a demand from the Bulgarian government for his recall.

Bulgaria was directed to withdraw its small diplomatic mission in Washington.

Its legation here is headed now by Dr. Peter Voutov, charge d'affaires.

It is the first time the United States has broken diplomatic relations with any nation since the war.

The U. S. decision was communicated to the Bulgarian government at Sofia yesterday. Voutov was summoned to the State Department today and informed of the action.

He was directed to make arrangements to leave the United States with other members of the legation and their families.

After talking with Llewellyn Thompson, deputy assistant secretary for European affairs, Voutov told reporters "I think the break is complete." He said there are 12 members of the legation staff, including dependents, and that all probably would leave early in March.

UMW Treasury Threatened By Contempt Action

But Miners Appear Stubborn; Lewis Not Cited By Judge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—The entire treasury of the striking coal miners, variously figured at $13,000,000 to $20,000,000, was endangered today by their defiance of a court order once again to end a coal strike.

Reports from the coal fields showed a spirit of rebellious indifference to the situation.

The United Mine Workers—but not President John L. Lewis personally—was cited for contempt of court here yesterday by Judge Richmond B. Keech, who had issued the back-to-work order.

The union was given until Friday to clear itself of contempt by getting the 372,000 idle miners back to work. Union lawyers were told to explain Friday, if the men are still out.

That didn't seem to bother the miners. They expressed such comments in the Pennsylvania fields as, "Nobody is going to pay any attention to a contempt citation." Another: "Let them fine us until our money is gone."

Mine disorders were reported, especially in eastern Kentucky.

If the union doesn't comply with the back to work order by Friday, to the satisfaction of the court, it will mean a hearing next Monday before Judge Keech. The UMW could be fined any amount the judge deems proper. If still out next Monday the strikers will have been in defiance of the court order for two weeks. The order was renewed yesterday until March 3.

The union paid $2,130,000 in two fines for similar scrapes with the courts in 1946 and 1948.

Judge Keech could wipe out the UMW's rich holdings, built from almost nothing since 1933. These assets consist of huge bank accounts, four valuable Washington office buildings only a couple of blocks from the White House, bonds and bank stocks.

Lewis was held responsible along with the union both previous times. He has met the court orders this time. Two communiques from Lewis failed to get the miners back on the job. They insisted on lifting against their traditional war-cry, "No contract, no work." They have been without a contract since the old one expired last June 30.

Mrs. Benfield dropped two small daughters to safety from an upstairs window, but flames drove her back from the bedroom where the boy was sleeping.

DR. SANDER GOES ON TRIAL.—Dr. Hermann N. Sander, center, accompanied by his wife and his lawyer, Louis Wyman, enters Hillsborough County Courthouse, Manchester, N. H., to face trial on a charge of murdering of "mercy" his 59-year-old cancer patient, Mrs. Abbie C. Borroto. Dr. Sander, 41, was cheered as he walked past some 50 townspeople gathered outside the courthouse in the windy two-below-zero cold.

Okay 8 Jurors In Mercy Trial

One Unseated; Six Of Group Are Catholic

MANCHESTER, N. H., Feb. 21—(AP)—A British-born juror—the oldest of nine seated so far in the Sander "mercy killing" trial—was dismissed today after the prosecution raised a belated challenge.

Counsel for Dr. Hermann N. Sander offered no objection to removing 72-year-old Albert Baines, a retired Manchester gas company employee who came to this country about 40 years ago.

Baines—a Presbyterian—was one of three Protestants among the first nine jurors chosen yesterday to try Sander on a charge of murder for pumping air into a hopeless cancer patient to end her suffering.

After a conference of an hour and a quarter with defense counsel and prosecutors, Judge Harold E. Wescott returned to the courtroom to announce:

"The state has requested the right to challenge the last juror seated yesterday. The defense offered no objections. The request is granted."

"The reason for the state's request was not explained."

Earlier, Attorney General William L. Phipps revealed he was investigating the possibility that names of the prospective jurors had "leaked" out before they were made known by the court.

As the examination of veniremen resumed, the first two examined were excused.

With Baines' removal, eight jurors remained seated and five more were to be chosen. Of the eight picked, six are Roman Catholics.

Neither the defense nor prosecution showed an inclination to bar Catholics from the jury simply because of their faith.

Comments from the Vatican newspaper in Rome and from other Catholic authorities have condemned "mercy killings." Catholic doctrine is opposed to euthanasia (mercy killing).

Only once during the initial proceedings was the word "mercy killing" used in court. A prospective juror, William R. Connolly of Manchester, was excused by Judge Ralph E. Wescott after he told the court: "I'm a Catholic and against mercy killings."

Senate Checks Spy Ring Cry

Sen. McCarthy Says Trio Directs Reds

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—A Republican Senator's charges that two men and a woman make up a "big three" directing a spy ring in the State Department headed today for an investigation by the Senate foreign relations committee.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, told reporters he will propose that the committee look into accusations made by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) that 81 Communists either have worked or now working for the Department.

McCarthy, who described these individuals from supposedly secret files in a five-hour Senate speech last night, said he would give their names to such a committee. He didn't give any in his speech.

In a running word battle with Lucas, the Wisconsin Senator refused in his Senate speech to tell who he suspects of being members of what he described as "an espionage ring in the State Department."

As an off-shoot, McCarthy said at one point that a member of a Communist front organization who failed to get security clearance in the State Department had turned up as a White House speech writer.

Without naming the individual, he said he has a relative with a financial interest in The Daily Worker, Communist paper.

Fishing out photographs of records from a large brief case, McCarthy told the Senate, however, that the ouster of the "big three" would break the back of the reputed spy ring.

The most important member of this trio was described by McCarthy as "one of our foreign ministers" who is holding "one of the most important listening posts in Europe."

He said this man had been shadowed and was found to have been in contact with a Soviet agent who in turn was followed to a Soviet embassy in an unnamed country there, and that material was turned over to the embassy.

U. S. Businessman A Convicted Spy; Two Get Death Penalty

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Feb. 21—(AP)—American Businessman Robert A. Vogeler was sentenced by a Hungarian court today to 15 years in prison on spy charges. Two Hungarian co-defendants were sentenced to death.

The defense immediately announced appeals to a higher court, and the prosecution hammered back with a statement that it, too, would appeal and demand heavier penalties for the five defendants who escaped the death sentence.

The death sentence was meted out to Imre Geiger, manager of the International Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s Budapest branch, and Zoltan Rado, former department chief in Hungary's ministry of heavier industry.

Edgar Sanders, Vogeler's British aide in the I. T. & T. branch, Standard Electric Works, was sentenced to 13 years.

The same prosecution announced an appeal when Josef Cardinal Mindszenty was sentenced to life imprisonment for plotting against the state. The Cardinal also appealed, but the original sentences in the case were unchanged by the higher court.

Geiger, Rado and the other defendants all are Hungarian nationals. The court sentenced Rev. Istvan Justh, a Roman Catholic priest, and Kelemen Domokos, accountant in the Standard Co., to 10 years. Edina Doery, a barmaid, was given a five-year term.

Vogeler, 38, assistant vice president of the I. T. & T., and the other six defendants had confessed to charges of ferreting out Hungarian economic and industrial secrets on instructions of the American intelligence service, of sabotaging the productive capacity of the Standard firm to harm Hungarian economy, and of sabotaging deliveries to the Soviet Union and East European Communist countries.

Vogeler, Sanders and the five Hungarians had pleaded guilty to the charges and had made abject statements to the court.

United States Minister Nathaniel Davis had been barred from visiting Vogeler and Sanders during their three months in custody. Immediately after the sentencing he called a news conference for 4 p. m.

Johnson Asks Review Of Guided Missiles

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Johnson has ordered a review of the entire U. S. guided missile program.

Such a review either by the Defense chief or Congress was demanded last week by Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas), who contended Russia is at least two years ahead of the U. S. in guided missile development.

The review has been undertaken by the Defense department's research and development board and that board's committee on guided missiles, it was learned today.

Their report will be made directly to Secretary Johnson.

A usually well informed source said that Johnson asked the board to review the program before Senator Johnson demanded such a step.

'Winnie' Claims Election Issue

Attlee Denies Parley Idea Is Issue No. 1

LONDON, Feb. 21—(AP)—Conservative Leader Winston Churchill claims his call for high-level talks with Russia on atomic control has blossomed into the outstanding campaign issue in the British elections Thursday.

But Prime Minister Clement Attlee continues to base his Labor party's appeal for re-election on domestic policy. He is standing on his record and asking the people for a new term to "get you along the rest of the road" to recovery.

Attlee mentioned briefly, however, his own party's international policy as "trying to build up not only in this country but in the world the kind of conditions that make for peace."

Scorning the views of his Labor party opponents that the subject of big power talks to end the cold war should not be raised at election time, Churchill said yesterday that the working classes should be called upon to vote on this as well as domestic issues.

He said his original appeal at Edinburgh for an attempt at reaching lasting East-West settlement had "not only dominated the election in Great Britain" but also had "rolled around the world and may have created a new situation which, whatever happens, cannot make things worse and may possibly bring us nearer to our heart's desire."

Attlee and his leading associates have not rejected outright the idea of such talks but have contended generally that the attempts to deal with Russia should continue through the United Nations.

Rhodes Attacks Trio Of GOP Chairmen

CLEVELAND, Feb. 21—(AP)—Columbus Mayor, James A. Rhodes, claimed today "William W. Klatt, who recently resigned as Trumbull county chairman, still is the Republican boss there."

Rhodes is a candidate for the error.

In a statement issued here, Rhodes said:

"Byron Wade is GOP chairman in Mahoning county. He has no interest in the party. He turned his back on the Republican mayor, Charles P. Henderson (of Youngstown), an honest official, who was elected despite Wade's reluctance."

Rhodes also renewed his attack on George P. Bender, former Congressman and for 14 years Republican chairman in Cuyahoga county (Cleveland). Rhodes asserted Bender "is guilty of using the Republican party for his own selfish interests" and should resign as chairman.

He said Klatt, Wade and Bender "have made the Republican party in northeastern Ohio a closed corporation."

T-H Law Won't Force Mine Work

Sen. Taft Says It Wasn't Meant To

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(UP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) of Ohio, co-author of the Taft-Hartley act, said today that no law can be written to force the coal miners to go back into the pits and dig coal.

"The Taft-Hartley law wasn't designed to force workers back to work," he said. "It was provided to give labor and management a cooling-off period before a strike begins."

The Ohio senior Senator doubt that seizure of the mines would alter the strike situation, since seizure would not mean the miners would return to work.

"You can't put 400,000 miners in jail," he added.

Asked if he thought a heavy fine, on contempt charges, would change the miners' attitude, Sen. Taft said the miners have shown that they don't want to go back to the mines unless they have a contract.

"I believe that if both sides were brought into court, the real issues would be presented publicly," he said. "That might be a good thing."

"Looking at the entire picture now, I believe President Truman would have been better off had he invoked the Taft-Hartley law last November. The miners were working then and an injunction against a strike might have stopped it from happening later. We might have avoided today's problem."

Democrats Can Beat Taft, Claim

Party Vice Chairman Talks At Delaware

DELAWARE, Feb. 21—(AP)—The task of defeating U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) "will be a backbreaking job" but it can be done, a national Democratic leader told Ohio Wesleyan students yesterday.

Mrs. India Edwards, vice chairman of the Democratic national committee, said Ohio Democrats "have the grandest opportunity they ever had to show they really believe in their party" and "we have the people here in Ohio to beat Taft."

The University's Institute of Practical Politics sponsored the talk. Guy G. Gabrielson, Republican national committee chairman, will speak at a similar program next Monday.

Mrs. Edwards asked Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, University president, if she could make a partisan observation.

American universities and colleges have "too long barred partisan talks on their campuses and it is about time this barrier was broken down," Flemming replied.

Mrs. Edwards said the Democratic party urges every American to register and vote and welcomes recruits.

About March 1, local and county chairmen of the Republican and Democratic parties will get lists of names of students willing to work for their organizations, said Dr. Ben Arneson, Institute director. The Institute tries to get students interested in partisan politics.

The students will be attending classes during the May primary and the November general election, and most of their party work will be done during summer months.

Earlier, Mrs. Edwards told the students that "since I entered politics I have met some of the finest people I have ever known."

YOUR GARDEN

Now Is The Time To Beware 'Seed Catalogue Fever'

By HENRY FREE
Written for NEA Service

THE recent spring-like weather on the whole may be considered as having benefited lawns old and new. The frequent rains plus the high temperatures combined to keep the grass roots in a growing condition.

As a result, this old gardener believes that better lawns will be the rule next summer.

You are of course spending considerable time poring through the many seed and nursery catalogues which are arriving with every mail. We all do this and become a bit intoxicated by the wonderful illustrations and many times over-enthusiastic descriptions. It's very easy to catch that high-epidemic ailment—"seed catalogue fever."

Check all the things you think you want; that will take the first reading of each catalogue. Then take time to "come to" and recover from the childish desire to possess everything seen.

Go over your list a second time and hesitate long enough to visualize each plant in your own garden. Does it fit in? What space have you for this shrub, perennial, annual or perhaps bed of whatever it may be, that you're so excited about?

In other words does your garden want it and really need it? Don't forget that seeds have a way of producing plants that require space even though they themselves look so small.

In February, which is not a busy month and is a favorable time for pruning fruit trees, take advantage of any good days to push ahead this operation that seems a necessary procedure in the growing of good fruits.

Thin out the branches in a manner that will assist in giving the tree a good shape, make it easier to spray well, and stimulate the tree to new and vigorous fruitbearing growth in cases where the trees habitually bear undersize fruit.

Do not let the soil about your house plants become baked by the furnace heat and lack of moisture in the air. Such a condition is quite as injurious to the health of members of the household as it is to the house plants.

Most plants will give the best results in a room in which the temperature is kept between 55 and 65 degrees; though a few sorts, like the primrose, like coolness. As cool air is not necessarily fresh air, be sure that there is adequate ventilation.

QUIZZING THE GARDENER

Q—What ground cover plants will grow under maple trees where grass refuses to grow? The soil is poor and tree roots are close to the surface.

A—Since plants must have a nourishing soil, your first chore is to loosen the soil, work in an inch or more layer of manure and a 10-6-4 fertilizer at the rate of three pounds per 100 square feet. Then plant Myrtle, vinca minor; or English Ivy, heder helix; or Evergreen Creeper, euonymus coloratus; or Japanese Spurge, pachysandra terminalis. These evergreen cover plants are shade-tolerant.

Q—How soon can I expect a crop of lima beans?

A—Small seeded bush limas mature in about 65 days; large seeded bush and pole limas in about 80 days.

Sweeney Must Rule On Marshall Petitions

COLUMBUS, Feb. 21—(AP)—Secretary of State Charles F. Sweeney was expected to rule today on whether or not L. L. Marshall of Euclid, O., is a valid candidate for the Republican nomination for attorney general.

Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy yesterday held that some of Marshall's petitions were circulated before the name of the candidate and the office for which he was running were filled in. Sweeney asked for an opinion.

Sweeney was not in his office when Duffy issued the opinion. Atty. Louis Vinocur of Cleveland asked Marshall's candidacy be declared invalid on the ground petitions were filled out improperly. Vinocur at a hearing before Sweeney last week said he was acting as his own attorney and not for Harry T. Marshall of Cleveland, another candidate for the same nomination L. L. Marshall seeks.

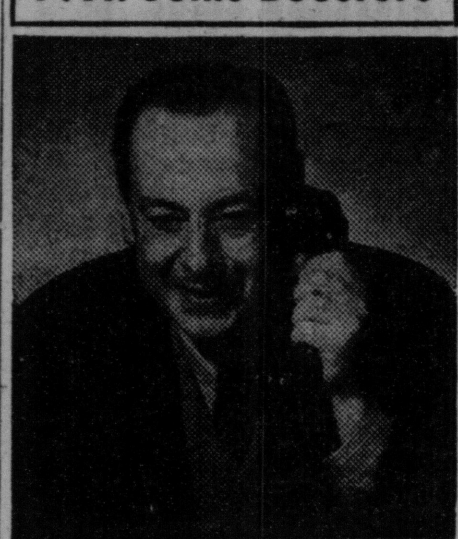

State Representative C. William O'Neill of Marietta, and Atty. Dale Stump of Columbus also seek the Republican attorney general nomination.

Farmers Oppose Grand River Project

WARREN, Feb. 21—(AP)—A group of Trumbull and Ashtabula county farmers whose land will be needed for the proposed Grand river floodway was on record today as opposing the project.

The group, under the title of the Grand River Valley Property Owners' Association, met at its first session yesterday. It authorized its officials to express opposition before the United States Army engineers, who are in favor of the waterway.

The Association also authorized its officials to demand "adequate" pay for land taken.

Land owners from Bloomfield,

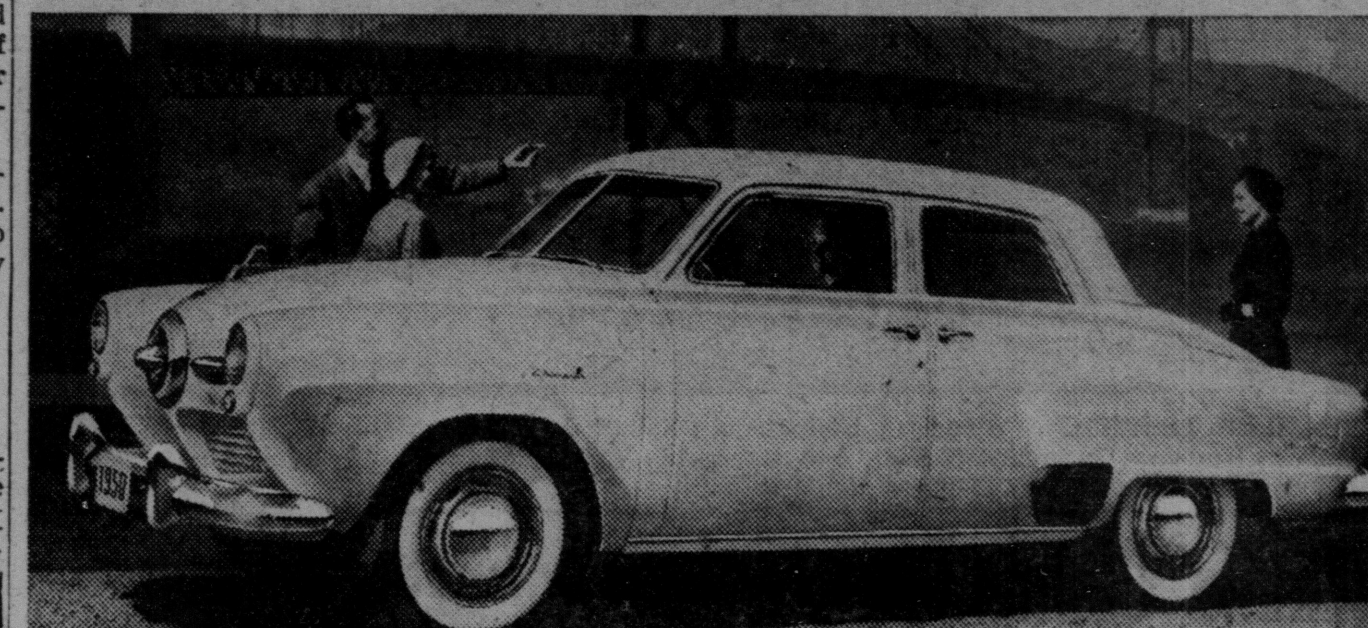

Mesopotamia, Farmington and Bristol townships in Trumbull county and Windsor and Orwell townships in Ashtabula county were among the more than 700 persons attending the meeting in Mesopotamia Town Hall.

Many farmers expressed doubt they would get true value of their holdings from the government if their land were taken.

Amish To Form Own School

Get Permission In Geauga County Area

CHARDON, Feb. 21—(AP)—Amish residents of Geauga county, given the green light by the state board of education, went about setting up their own school system today.

One school is scheduled to get under way this week in a vacant house on a nearby Parkman farm. Construction of two school buildings, both in Parkman township, will begin soon.

State department permission was given the Amish after a delegation of the religious sect's leaders journeyed to Columbus and talked to officials.

The Amish recently were under fire from a large number of Parkman parents, who attended a meeting of the Geauga county school board in an effort to save their own high school.

The parents charged that the Amish had refused to send their children beyond the eighth grade. This, they said, contributed to the order from the state department of education to close the high school at the end of this year because of lack of students. They demanded that the county board enforce Ohio school laws and prosecute parents of children who should be in high school but were not.

The Amish, informed of the action established the temporary school. School board members are to be appointed this week.

When the schools are completed, they will house every Amish pupil in the county. The largest Amish population is in Middlefield, Troy and Parkman townships.

Cold Snap Hits Ohio In Its Coal Pile

COLUMBUS, Feb. 21—(AP)—Prevailing cold weather today brought the coal strike more sharply to the attention of Ohio householders.

The Retail Coal Merchants Association here said its dealers are rationing deliveries to one ton in some cases and as low as one-half ton in others.

In Cleveland, coal yards were flooded with telephoned requests for coal deliveries. Dealers said they thought they could take care of the demand through this week anyway.

The East Ohio Gas Co. recorded its highest single day sale of gas yesterday—some 700,000,000 cubic feet in northeast Ohio.

Some 700 factories and mills in Cuyahoga, Summit, Mahoning, Tuscarawas and Stark counties may be asked to conserve gas, the company said.

The Junction City, O., Clay Co., which manufactures tile, laid off 88 men due to lack of coal needed for production. The strike has closed the company's coal mine, which employs 15 men.

Detroit Steel Corp. suspended coke plant operations at its Portsmouth, O., division. Officials say the plant has a two-week supply of fuel.

Poetry Contest Opens For Public Schools

Mrs. Margaret Baker has been appointed by L. D. Early, principal of Junior High School to promote participation among the pupils of that school in a publication this fall of another Anthology of Ohio Verse.

Previous issues were prepared in 1944, 1946 and 1948. The school received recognition in the 1948 anthology when a poem entitled "Beauty" was submitted by Barbara Ross and received state-wide honors.

Entries will be received from public school students from the first grade up through high school and will fall into four classifications: Primary, grades 1-3; intermediate, grades 4-6; junior high, grades 7-9; and senior high, grades 10-12.

William J. Conway will promote activity in the New Garden school. Chairmen for the High School, Buckeye, Prospect, Columbia, Reilly and McKinley have not been reported.

Protein Fills in Lenten Menus

TOMORROW is Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent. Look to cheese and other dairy foods for high-quality protein to replace that of meat in your Lenten menus. Cheese sandwich variations not only taste good but provide main dish nutrition for all the family.

Here's a brand new idea. Comes out puffy and brown like a soufflé:

Casserole Sandwiches (Serves 6)
One 7-ounce can tuna fish, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 12 slices bread, 1½ cups grated cheddar cheese, 3 eggs, 3 cups milk, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon celery salt.

Mix together tuna fish, mayonnaise and minced onion. Spread on six slices of bread, cover with remaining slices and fit into six individual casseroles. Top with grated cheese. Beat eggs until frothy, stir in milk,

Worcestershire sauce and celery salt. Pour over sandwiches. Let stand for thirty minutes. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 25 to 30 minutes or until puffy and golden brown. Garnish with green peas and mushrooms. Serve very hot.

Broiled Cheese Sandwiches (Serves 6)
Two tablespoons softened butter, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon celery salt, 6 slices bread, 2 medium sized tomatoes, 6 thin slices large onion, 6 thin slices cheddar cheese paprika.

Mix together butter, mustard and celery salt. Spread on bread slices cheddar cheese, paprika, each. Place on bread, top with onion slices and cheese. Sprinkle with paprika. Place under broiler and broil for 5 to 6 minutes or until cheese has melted and is golden brown. Serve immediately, with crisp salad greens.

Farm Income Shows Decrease

Commerce Reports Show 2 Per Cent Dip

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—Declining farm income 'and a drop in the nation's output of goods and services have been reported by government agencies.

The Commerce department said yesterday that the total national output, which President Truman recently said can be expanded to $300,000,000,000 in five years, dipped nearly two per cent in 1949 to a $257,400,000,000 total.

And Agriculture department pictured a worsening farm financial situation marked by declining income, lowered value of assets, and increased debts.

The Commerce department report also showed an overall national income decline of two per cent from booming 1948. The 1949 total was $221,500,000,000.

The Agriculture department's 1949 summary said the average income of persons on farms was reported at $763 compared with the town-urban average of $1,555. The 1948 figures for the two groups was $905 and $1,572.

Total net farm income was shown at $21,182,000,000 compared with $24,829,000,000 in 1948.

The farm situation is expected to decline further this year, department officials said, pointing to shrinking farm product prices and overseas markets.

The Commerce department, however, was less pessimistic. The dip in output last year, it said, was due mainly to a cutback by businessmen in ordering goods for inventory. This, it added, was partially offset by buying by consumers, the government and strong outlays for construction.

Department analysts commented: "The shift in the inventory position—the bulk of which occurred in the first half of the year—was reflected in the business recession that developed during this period."

"The mildness of the recession was traceable to the strength of final demand. In the latter part of 1949, when inventory shifts were less pronounced, overall economic activity stabilized."

Liquor Renewals Face Filing Deadline

COLUMBUS, Feb. 21—(AP)—Liquor permit holders face loss of their licenses unless they refile renewal applications on time, state liquor director Oscar L. Fleckner said yesterday.

The board of liquor control, he said, requires that renewal applications be filed at least 15 days before the permit expires. About 50 percent of the permit holders are ignoring this regulation, he added.

"We have tried to recognize," Fleckner went on, "that sometimes isolated cases occur when permit holders are under a hardship to file promptly."

But, said Fleckner, the department now gets about 75 "late" applications every working day. If a permit holder did not get a permit renewal because of a late application, he would be out of business since the board is not issuing any new permits.

How About A Driver's License?

THE U. S. S. MISSOURI is out of the mud and out of the public eye. But in Norfolk, Va., interesting details of the recent mishap to the big battleship are coming out.

Capt. William D. Brown, defending his actions as skipper of the Missouri before a naval court of inquiry, had admitted he was "extremely rusty." He had not been in command of a ship since 1943. He has also admitted that he lacked confidence in the ship's navigation officer and was unfamiliar with the communications apparatus on the bridge. In brief, he has admitted that he was not in full control of his vehicle when the accident occurred that caused the ship to run aground.

Dry-land sailors are impressed unfavorably. It hadn't occurred to them that the "driver" of a $50,000,000 battleship wouldn't be required to take at least the equivalent of a test for a driver's license on a public highway.

Ignorance Is Bliss

THERE is an unconfirmed report that the Communist dictatorship has undergone another of its frequent purges. A Berlin newspaper says it has uncovered the story by listening to sources close to the Soviet control commission in eastern Germany.

If the report could be confirmed, it would strike a telling blow at one of the most dangerous impressions in the anti-Communist world—that everything in Russia these days is going smoothly. The fact is that things in Russia are going no more smoothly than they are in any other country.

Yet, the curtain of secrecy which hides Russian events gives rise to an invidious comparison between all the other countries and Russia. Their difficulties are open to inspection and criticism 24 hours a day. Russian news correspondents in the United States even attend White House news conferences. Russian diplomatic personnel have ready access to everything that goes on in this country. But no United States correspondent or diplomatic official has any access at all to what goes on in Russia.

The resulting picture of a serene country presided over by an all-powerful government in complete control of everything at all times is false; there never has been such a state of affairs anywhere or at any time in the history of the world. It is only one more of the "big lies" about dictatorship which, as Hitler demonstrated, become believable if they're repeated often enough.

The Anglers And Their Bait

IF THE thorough airing of organized crime by the press and perhaps later by Congress and the Department of Justice clears away one foggy notion, it will be worth the effort.

That's the notion that all gambling is a matter of individual pleasure and therefore should not be curbed.

The truth is that no one gives a whoop how much recreational gambling goes on in the United States. Bets between individuals and games of chance engaged in by individuals are of no concern to anyone except bluestocking groups. Unorganized gambling is not evil—no more so than a deck of playing cards is evil.

The public problem is how to get rid of organized gambling. The hard-bitten people who do the organizing regard gambling only as a bait for the suckers who pay the overhead for the systematic corruption of public officials. It is only one of the "angles" the organizers play in their never-ending quest for power and privilege. The public problem is how to keep them from using their gambling profits to corrupt the body politic. They have developed such an intricate system of exacting toll from the gambling instinct in the people that a major effort will be required to trim them down to size. The effort can be successful only if there is widespread public realization of the menace involved. That is the purpose of the airing of organized crime by the press—to prepare public opinion for action against the organized underworld.

28,000 Tons Of Salvage

SHIRLEY TEMPLE hasn't been in the news lately to make most of us feel older than we are, but the announcement that the Aquitania will be broken up for salvage will do until Shirley becomes a grandmother.

When all of us were younger and some of us were much younger, the Aquitania was the symbolic luxury liner of the Atlantic. She carried 1,189 passengers in her 36 years of service. One reason for her popularity in her maiden days, incidentally, was the notion that ships with four smoke stacks were more trustworthy; she had an edge over newfangled ships with three and finally only two. The Aquitania deserved the confidence she commanded, too. In more than a third of a century and 3,000,000 miles, she had no accidents.

Today, the ship is hopelessly obsolete, good for nothing but salvage. She will end her career in Scotland's River Clyde, at the mercy of scrap scavengers who will pick her bones clean of the 28,000 tons of material which are all that remain of her days of glory—all, that is, except the memories of her famous name.

Operation Etiquetchup

THE ARMY handed out a stern lesson in table manners recently. Two enlisted men were court-martialed for refusing to pass the ketchup to a sergeant.

"Increased respect for senior non-commissioned officers, along with a keener awareness of correct table manners, is expected of all GIs as the result of the trial," said the Army.

This sounds as if the top brass expected the boys to rush out and gobble up copies of Emily Post's etiquette.

A more likely result will be a new password to denote the approach of a sergeant: "Please pass the ketchup!"

Who's Kidding Whom?

Presidential Press Conference

By DAVID LAWRENCE

THE SPARKLING conversation recently between President Truman and the members of the press who attend his weekly conferences would seem to indicate that perhaps all is not well between the chief executive and the corps of correspondents.

Much of the difficulty arises from a misconception of the duties of a President with respect to the giving out of news. For many decades the press, as a body, never interviewed the President of the United States. The press conference idea is of recent origin, having been begun in the administration of President Taft about 40 years ago. It was developed under President Wilson and reached its maximum interest under President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who made the conferences something of a show in which he enjoyed a bristling repartee with the newsmen.

LAST WEEK the correspondents needed Mr. Truman about the exclusive article published by Arthur Krock, Washington correspondent of the "New York Times," in which were summarized in indirect discourse certain conversations he had had with the President. The White House approved the article for publication.

Other Presidents have given exclusive interviews. President Wilson gave at least two interviews to the late Louis Seibold of the "New York World," and two to the late Samuel G. Blythe of "The Saturday Evening Post."

The late President Franklin Roosevelt gave Arthur Krock an exclusive interview on two different occasions. There is no reason why a President shouldn't give exclusive interviews to particular correspondents or even refrain from seeing the press at all. There's no statute governing such things. Publicity is important to political administrations, so press conferences have come to stay.

Most Presidents have avoided anything that seemed to be favoritism. President Theodore Roosevelt, however, played the game the other way—he selected correspondents from opposition papers and "leaked" news to them and hoped thereby for friendlier treatment in the news columns than he might otherwise have obtained.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Rheumatic Fever Often Damages Heart

RHEUMATIC fever has been called childhood's greatest enemy. It also attacks grownups and is one of the most important causes of heart disease in later life as well as in childhood.

In its typical form it produces swelling, pain and redness of the joints, usually skipping from one to another. The joints recover entirely without permanent harm, but permanent damage to the heart is its most serious effect.

Lack of knowledge of the cause of rheumatic fever certainly holds back efforts at prevention and treatment. Rheumatic fever is somewhat more common among the poor than among the economically well to do. It is more frequent under damp and other undesirable living conditions than under good conditions.

Although better economic circumstances for all probably would cut down somewhat on the number of cases, this alone is quite certainly not the answer. At present the most promising line of investigation on prevention is the use of the sulfa drugs or antibiotics.

Treatment of rheumatic fever is also not yet wholly satisfactory. Complete rest in bed is necessary, as is good nursing, such as would be used for any acute infection or illness. Drugs of the salicylate family, such as aspirin by mouth and oil of wintergreen externally, have been used for many years and still are used in this disease. The principal aim of whatever treatment is employed is to prevent heart damage or at least keep it to minimum and also speed recovery from the acute attack.

After the attack of acute rheumatic fever has gone, a long period of convalescence is desirable. This is important not only to build up some kind of resistance to future attacks, but also because it helps the heart to recover to the greatest possible degree.

Careful tests of the heart must be made to find out how badly it has been damaged and just how much further care is necessary. Many people recover from an attack of rheumatic fever with hearts which are not seriously affected, but on the other hand some get heart trouble from attacks which have been so mild that they passed unnoticed at the time.

30 Years Too Soon

By INEZ ROBB

Treatises Offered In Ingrid, Rita Incidents

Inez Robb

A MAN RUNS a great risk in being born 30 years too soon. It is obvious in this year of grace that the only thing the matter with the late Judge Ben B. Lindsey was his timing.

It seems real sad to me that the little judge went to his reward before the international set, from Hollywood to the Himalayas, had made compatriot or trial marriage both conventional and respectable.

Then again, it is probably just as well that the judge was gathered to his fathers before his life work became as hopelessly old-fashioned and old-hat as it is today. The world has moved far beyond the old judge. It has embraced trial parenthood, which would have shocked him to death.

Years back, when I was standing where brook and river meet, the judge was on the front pages every day. With the same regularity he was also on the editorial pages, getting the living daylights knocked out of him because of his advocacy of trial marriage.

DESPITE THE fact Judge Lindsey was one of the nation's leading authorities on juvenile delinquency and that his juvenile court in Denver was a model for the nation, he was ultimately chased out of Colorado for his advocacy of doin' what comes naturally.

Oddly enough, the judge advocated trial marriage for the most moral of reasons. He thought it would lessen the nation's zooming divorce statistics and put the brakes on juvenile delinquency, which some cynic has defined as "young folks doing what their old folks do."

But the international set had not yet brought all its sweetness and light to the great educational task of companionate marriage, much less to trial parenthood. The country was kinda old-fashioned in Judge Lindsey's day. It expected people—even glamour gals and joes—to marry without benefit of try-out or test run.

People were just terribly, terribly narrow-minded in the judge's time. It expected sensitive, high-type characters, even actors and actresses, to jump smack into marriage without even experimenting around to see if it suited the individual!

And as for trial parenthood—Tsk, Tsk, Tsk. Who ever heard of such a thing in the judge's day?

I imagine the judge would be a mite surprised, if he returned to earth today, to read the editorial in a New York paper congratulating the currently most famous exponent of trial motherhood on the "charm and courage" of her behavior.

NATURALLY, EVERY one living beyond the limits of Manhattan is a hick and a hay-shaker, whose opinion is not to be taken seriously by us city slickers and sophisticates.

So I quote, only for laughs, of course, an editorial appearing in the Hunterton County Democrat, a paper published in Flemington, N. J., fifty miles from New York. It says:

"The ballyhoo which has accompanied the birth of a son to Ingrid Bergman and an Italian film director is neither a credit to the newspaper and radio industries, nor to the American people."

"In America our film stars have somewhat the role of royalty. They are worshipped by millions of people. But unfortunately they assume none of the responsibility, moral or otherwise, of royal personages. Recent widespread publicity concerning the liberties which Ingrid Bergman and Rita Hayworth have taken with the seventh commandment can have no other effect than to urge young people of America to go and do likewise."

I know the editor of this paper quite well and ordinarily he is an urbane guy. But then, he is trying to raise a family of young girls. And I find that my friends with growing daughters are inclined to take these matters very humbly.

And, as I pointed out before, people who live even a few miles from New York are hay-shakers, and I have only quoted the above editorial for laughs, after all.

"What Can I Do?"

By GEORGE S. BENSON

MILLIONS of Americans are beginning to stir themselves from a long hibernation and squarely face the responsibilities of citizenship. This awakening from lethargy is one of the most encouraging signs I've observed since I returned home from Asia 14 years ago after an absence of 11 years. At that time we as a nation were drifting, on a strong current, away from the fundamental principles which have given us the highest living standard the world has ever known. And hardly anybody seemed to notice or care.

For years I've been conscious of this apathy as I traveled about the country addressing various groups and meeting people. In the past year or so there has been an awakening of significant proportions. It isn't sufficiently widespread to be decisive—to halt the leftward trend—but, to me, it is immensely encouraging. Since January 1, 1949, I've made 210 speeches in 36 states, tracing the good record of free enterprise and the dismal failure of Socialism wherever tried. My collective audience of 81,220 persons included industrial workers, teachers, housewives, students—aers, business and professional good cross-section of our population.

The reaction of a considerable number of men and women fell into a pattern. Not all, but most of those I met face-to-face after my formal speeches told me they'd begun to realize the full import of some of the things happening in our nation today and were anxious to do something to help safeguard the American way of life. Invariably they asked, "What can I do?"

The same awakening attitude and the same question are being expressed all through the mail I receive from listeners to our radio program and from readers of this column and our monthly letter which goes to some 40,000 people around the country. When a person asks this question he is at least partly informed—he sees the threat to our freedom. And nine out of 10, I believe, really will do something if given specific directions, materials or tools to work with. I always welcome the question.

Answers to "What can I do?" are virtually unlimited in number. Here are five that come to mind easily—all commanding positive action.

1. Because well informed on history and politics and especially in economics. Henry Hazlitt has written an easily understood book for laymen—"Economics In One Easy Lesson." The Reader's Digest for February has a provocative book digest on politics—"The Road Ahead." These could be thought starters for anyone. Get reprints of the Digest's book condensation and distribute them.

2. Speak out. Take five minutes and awaken some of your friends and associates—at your club, or Bible class, or labor union meeting, or sewing circle, or PTA, or at nighttime in the office or shop where you work.

3. Get better acquainted with your local preachers and school teachers and public officials. What is their thinking? Have lunch with them. Swap viewpoints on economics and politics. Take them books to read; recommend constructive movies, radio programs, columns, editorials.

4. Get a good 16 mm. film that tells the American story and show it the next time your group meets—any group. Scores of such movie shorts are available on loan without cost. (We're producing some ourselves at Harding.) Are your local schools taking advantage of this medium of American education?

5. Participate actively in the election of sound public officials. Voting is not merely an American privilege; it is a sacred responsibility. Get together with sound-thinking people of your community and actively champion candidates of strong character, intelligence and achievement—for the school board, and on up.

These are merely American citizenship demands. But, oh, how important they are to the future security of our freedom!

Pageant On Presidents' Wives Entertains Book Club Members

TURNING BACK THE PAGES of time, Mrs. T. W. Purviance pictured wives of the United States presidents to members of the Book Club and their guests in a beautiful colonial pageant Monday afternoon in the public library assembly room.

Making it a hobby, Mrs. Purviance has collected many interesting and not generally known facts about presidents' wives and has woven them into an exceptionally fine story which she told as narrator for the pageant.

Program chairman for the club, Mrs. Purviance has made several trips to Washington and gleaned some of her facts from old newspapers there.

The story which ties into the club's general theme for the 1949-50 season, "Women in a Changing World," begins with George and Martha Washington. Martha is reputed to have said that she did not care for tall men.

After she married Washington a friend reminded her of what she had said, to which she replied, "Well, yes, I did say that, but I find as I grow older that I am liking them taller and taller."

Abigail Adams, wife of John Adams, second president, and mother of John Quincy Adams, sixth president, was responsible for the first labor strike in the history of the States, which was on the White House grounds. It was brought about when Mrs. Adams wanted piles of debris and brick kilns removed from the White House lawn.

The First Lady lost and the workmen won. A newspaper stated that "Mrs. Adams was an elderly invalid of 56 when she came to Washington."

Thomas Jefferson, third president, was a widower with four sons when he went to the White House. His official hostess was Dolly Madison, whose husband was Secretary of State.

Dolly Madison, reared in Quaker faith, was original in all she did. She was the first to serve a new dessert, which is now called ice cream; had the first bath tub installed at the White House; originated the turban worn by women, as it is known today; disliked bustles, so they went out of style, until about Civil War time; loved to make calls and returned every one made on her.

Elizabeth Monroe, wife of the fifth president, James Monroe, started Marine band concerts. It was said of her that even in extreme age she still bore traces of great beauty.

Julia Tyler, wife of the tenth president, John Tyler, started open air concerts on the White House lawn. She loved gay clothing and frequently used green, red and purple tones in one costume. She wore feathers in her hair and also much jewelry.

The wife of Millard Fillmore, 13th president, Abigail Fillmore, started the White House library. She had been a school teacher. She also reinstalled the bath tub in the White House which had been discarded by President Jackson. It was mahogany lined with zinc and looked like a coffin.

At that time Philadelphia almost had an ordinance forbidding bathing between Nov. 1 and March 15. It lost by only one vote. Boston actually had an ordinance on books for 17 years making bathing in a tub illegal any time without a doctor's order.

Harriet Love was the official hostess for James Buchanan, bachelor, the 15th president. The song, "Listen To The Mocking Bird," was written and dedicated to Harriet Love, who is the "Sweet Hallie" of the song.

An ardent member of the W. C. T. U., Lucy Hayes, wife of Rutherford B. Hayes, was known as "Lemonade Lucy." Wine glasses were put away during her stay at the White House and no liquor was served with meals.

Mrs. Purviance, who wore an American Beauty Rose taffeta formal, complemented it with a black straw bonnet of the style of 1865.

Eleven women were cast in the pageant as follows: "Martha Washington," Mrs. Clyde Dole; "Dolly Madison," Mrs. C. H. Waldron; "Julia Tyler," Mrs. H. F. Wyckoff; "Abigail Fillmore," Mrs. H. C. Snyder; "Harriet Love," Mrs. J. R. Stiver; "Mary Todd Lincoln," Mrs. James Cross; "Lucy Hayes," Mrs. James Luke; "Frances Cleveland," Mrs. R. B. Long; "Grace Coolidge," Mrs. G. W. Smith; "Eleanor Roosevelt," Mrs. J. C. Pottorf; "Bess Truman," Mrs. Charles Wernet.

Mrs. Robert Talbot, vocalist, sang "Listen To The Mocking Bird." Mrs. Maurice Sadler, accompanist for the program, was attired in a period gown.

Officers for the 1950-51 season were elected. Mrs. J. Raymond Stiver succeeds Mrs. Snyder as president. Mrs. James Cross is first vice president.

Other officers are: Second vice president, Mrs. James Luke; secretary, Mrs. C. H. Waldron; treasurer, Mrs. Ira Hoopes; non-official member, Mrs. Snyder.

Patriotic colors were used on the charmingly appointed tea table. Red candles were in silver candelabra and red carnations were combined with blue iris in two bouquets. Mrs. Snyder and Mrs. Purviance poured.

Mrs. C. L. Flickinger headed the hospitality committee, which served. Other members were:

Mrs. Cross, Mrs. W. D. King, Mrs. Carl Willman and Mrs. George Talbot.

The nuptial vows were exchanged in the Presbyterian Upper Room chapel, witnessed only by Miss Cora Camphor of Lisbon and Joe Nemeth of Canton.

A wedding dinner at the Lape Hotel for the immediate families followed the ceremony.

After a honeymoon trip to Washington, D. C., the couple will make their home at 196 S. Union ave. The bride traveled in a green wool ensemble with brown accessories.

Maria Pilegge Wed To William Steves

Miss Maria Pilegge wore an attractive light grey suit with grey and mint green accessories when she became the bride of William F. Steves, Jr., at 3 p. m. Sunday in the Church of The Nazarene.

The bride complemented her outfit with a gardenia corsage. She wore a rhinestone necklace with earrings to match, the groom's gift.

Rev. E. M. Parks, pastor, heard the exchange of vows in the double-ring ceremony, which was witnessed by a group of relatives and friends.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. John Panzetti. Mrs. Panzetti wore a corsage of yellow roses with a dark print dress. She was remembered with a rhinestone bracelet. The bride gave the groom a necktie clip and the groom gave his best man a necktie clip.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stanyard, mother of the groom, was attired in a navy blue print and wore a corsage of white roses.

Approximately 45 relatives and friends were entertained at a reception at the Stanyard home, S. Broadway. A white linen cloth covered the refreshment table and a three-tiered wedding cake was topped with an ornament. Blue candles were in white holders.

Plains Story Told To Veteran Groups

The story of the settlement of the "High Plains" country and the two important battles in which Cheyenne Indians and United States Scouts were engaged was graphically told by W. H. Matthews in a talk Friday evening for members of the Sons and Daughters of Union Veterans and Sons of Union Veterans Auxiliary.

The meeting, a commemorative affair honoring Washington and Lincoln, was held in G. A. R. Hall.

Mr. Matthews explained that the fierce Cheyenne warriors who inhabited the prairies in the Arickare and Washita River areas, and the privations of the time, had much to do with retarding the settlement of that territory.

C. F. Crapster of the American Legion post gave Lincoln's Gettysburg address, and H. D. Huttenhower, accompanied by Mrs. Harry Sherwood, sang two numbers. Lunch was served by members of the Daughters of Union Veterans and the Auxiliary.

Salem To Meet Girard In Tournament Next Monday

Quakers Draw Into Bracket With Rayen, Warren, Lincoln

By BOB DIXON

Drawing into what might be regarded as the toughest bracket in the Northeastern Ohio district basketball tournament, the Salem High Quakers will face Girard in the first round of play at 8 p. m. next Monday. The drawing took place Monday night at Youngstown South High school, with 29 coaches in attendance.

Grouped in the top bracket with Salem and Girard are Austintown Fitch and Youngstown Rayen, the winner of whose game the Salem-Girard winner will face, Minerva, who drew a bye, and Warren and Canton Lincoln, first round opponents.

In the second bracket, whose winner will meet the best from the top bracket, are Canton McKinley, Canton Central Catholic, Youngstown Chaney and Ursuline, along with Louisville and Lisbon.

The four teams seeded by the coaches Monday night are Youngstown Rayen, Boardman, Canton McKinley and Niles, in that order. A full scale battle developed at the meeting over the seedings, when it was first suggested that Youngstown Rayen, East, Boardman and Niles be given the seeded spots. McKinley objected bitterly, saying that all

(5-10); Alliance (5-11) vs Ygn. East (14-3).

Boardman (14-4) vs Newton Falls (8-7); Brookfield (12-7) vs Campbell Memorial (10-7); Hubbard (0-18) vs Ygn. Wilson (5-9); East Palestine (8-10) vs Ygn. South (12-6).

Monday's games will be played at 7, 8 and 9:15 p. m., with Salem going at 8. The tilts Tuesday will be at 6:30, 7:45 and 9:15.

Seven games will be played Saturday, going at 12:30, 1:30, 2:30, 6, 7, 8 and 9:15, a full day of basketball.

The tourney will conclude Saturday, March 11, with two teams qualifying for the regional tournament, also at the South fieldhouse. The drawing for that affair will be held Sunday, March 12, Dave Williams, tournament director said Monday.

Bradley Ousts Holy Cross Five

Now Hold No. 1 Rating With Ohio State Third

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—(AP)—Bradley University broke Holy Cross' five-week grip on the position and moved in today as the nation's No. 1 basketball team.

The dashing lads from Peoria, Ill., although beaten three times, won solid support from all sections of the country to amass 1,269 points in the weekly Associated Press poll.

This gave them a 135-point edge over undefeated Holy Cross.

A total of 170 sports writers and broadcasters, the season's high, participated in the latest balloting and gave the standings a good juggling even if they didn't dislodge any of the top ten.

Here's the new rundown: Bradley, Holy Cross, Ohio State, Duquesne, Kentucky, St. John's, UCLA, Western Kentucky, North Carolina State and Long Island University.

Only two of these remained stationary from last week. Ohio State, the Western Conference power, held firm at third. Kentucky, the defending national champion, was an unshakable fifth.

Duquesne, beaten only once in 22 games, climbed from seventh to fourth. UCLA moved to the vacated spot from tenth and Western Kentucky graduated a notch.

Ohio State, which clinched at least a share of the Big Ten crown by humbling Indiana last night 75-65, became a definite threat for national honors. The Buckeyes, who have won 18 and lost 3, received 1,061 points—including 12 first place votes.

nounced. Half of them can't be serious.

Page's signing for an estimated $30,000 plus indicated George Weiss, Yank general manager, is in a generous mood. George had little trouble once he sat down to talk with the 32-year-old left-hander who pitched 60 games last season.

"It only took about 10 minutes," said Page yesterday. "It was my best ever. It even surprised me."

Page turned back one contract from his Springdale, Pa. home. That was supposed to have called for only a slight increase on last year's reported $20,000. Estimates on the new agreement run from $30,000 to $35,000, making him the best paid pitcher in Yankee history and certainly the best paid reliever anywhere, anytime.

Greenberg Rides Hecklers

Wants Them Run Out Of Cleveland Stadium

CLEVELAND, Feb. 21—(AP)—Fans who boo and heckle continuously have a harmful effect on the players, says General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians. He says he "would like to oust these abusive popoffs from the stadium."

High Henry knows as well as the next fellow that enforcing a ban on the chronic boo-birds probably would cause them to multiply. History says martyrdom has that effect.

But Hank feels so strongly on the subject that it might be well for the leather-lunged heckler to buy a seat far enough from Greenberg's press box perch to get a good running start on the six-foot-four former home run king.

"As a player I thoroughly disliked booing by fans," Greenberg told a reporter. "As a general manager I would like to do something about it. I'm referring to the two or three obnoxious fans in every ball park. If I can, I would like to oust these abusive popoffs from the stadium."

"The vast majority of fans are the real good ones, but it's the bad fan who continuously boos. The surprising thing is that the player doesn't hear the applause. He hears only the heckler, and he thinks the whole crowd is down on him. When a fan gets on a player, it contributes immeasurably to his frame of mind and his performance."

"Not only is the vicious fan obnoxious to the player, he also irritates the other fans. That's the chief reason I would like to bar him."

Jim Rhodes, Fritz Howell To Speak At Amvet Party

The Salem Amvets will play host to two outstanding sports celebrities at 8 p. m. Friday when the post holds its monthly stag party. Mayor Jim Rhodes of Columbus and Fritz Howell, Ohio Associated Press sports editor, will be guests of the post. Rhodes, who helped plan the program, wrote last week that he may bring one or two other sports figures with him.

Mayor Rhodes, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, is a well-known sports figure. He was last year's national president of the A. A. U. and he was a U. S. delegate to the 1948 London Olympic games. He originated the National Caddie Association and the All-American Newspaperboys Sports Scholarships, Inc., and is a leader in youth activities.

Fritz Howell, who has spoken here before, is one of the most gifted and talented story-tellers in the country. He is in heavy demand at banquets and parties and is annually the toastmaster of the Cleveland Browns football clinic banquet.

He appeared here as toastmaster at The Salem News All-County football banquet in 1946 and made a big hit.

Either Howell or Rhodes would be top-flight attractions at any function. Together, they will try to out-do each other in the story-telling department.

Movies of the 1949 World Series will also be shown during the program and a lunch will be served.

Amvet members are asked to bring only one guest.

MILLER PLEASED

"I'm quite pleased with the draw last night," Salem Coach Bob Miller said today. "We're in with some tough competition, but I think we're as good as most of them."

Miller pointed out that his team has beaten both Girard and Rayen this year. He said he thinks the Quakers can also take Warren, if they have a good night. The outcome of a possible Salem-Canton McKinley joust is too far off to consider, he said.

"I had a horror of drawing in with an inferior club like Hubbard," he mused. "I think we have a better chance of playing good ball against good clubs. Wouldn't it be awful to blow a game to Hubbard, when they've lost 18 straight this year?"

four are practically Youngstown teams and that other sections deserved consideration. The matter was put to a vote, with Rayen being picked number one team on the first ballot. McKinley was named after Boardman was picked and Niles drew five more votes than did East for the fourth spot.

The overall records of the 29 teams entered in the tourney are poor. Youngstown East, with a 14-3 mark, was best, followed by Rayen, with 12-3. Salem's 10-7 record did not look too bad alongside McKinley's 10-6 mark. The Quakers, if they get by Girard, a team they defeated at Girard 54-46 during the regular season, will probably meet Rayen the following Monday. The Tigers are an odds-on favorite to top Fitch. Surviving Rayen, the Quakers are likely to meet Warren, who beat the locals here in January.

Officials for the tournament will be Joe Check, Andy Lindsay, Johnny Russ and Paul Avery. Tickets for the affair will sell for 75 cents and 40 cents for students.

While at the drawing session, Coach Bob Miller of Salem arranged to meet Youngstown South Friday afternoon in the field house for a practice session. South drew into the fourth bracket opposite East Palestine. Here is the tourney schedule:

Monday, Feb. 27
Minerva (9-10) vs by; Warren (10-9) vs Canton Lincoln (9-7); Salem (10-7) vs Girard (10-8); Fitch (13-16) vs Ygn. Rayen (12-3).

Tuesday, Feb. 28
Can. McKinley (10-6) vs by; Ygn. Chaney (7-9) vs Can. Central Catholic (10-7); Ygn. Ursuline (11-7) vs Louisville (4-13); Lisbon (7-11) vs Can. Lehman (8-8).

Saturday, March 4
Niles (13-5) vs by; Can. Timken (10-8) vs Struthers (5-15); Ygn. North (6-10) vs Can. South

Funds Available For Road Aid

Bureau Releases Survey Results

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—The Bureau of Public Roads says it is "possible under existing federal legislation" to extend government aid to some 100,000 miles of heavily-traveled rural roads.

This, the Bureau said in a report to a Senate public works subcommittee, would permit federal aid to "practically all of the local roads" carrying 100 or more vehicles daily, and raise to about 700,000 the total mileage which the government helps maintain.

The committee had asked for the report to guide it in a study of bills proposing that federal aid for secondary roads be made a regular budget item.

The Bureau made no recommendations along this line but it suggested that local governments might have more money to spend on roads if they corrected "evident weaknesses" in road administration and quit "logrolling."

The board estimates that needed repairs to locally-kept county, township and other rural roads would cost approximately $7,200,000 over a period of years.

It also found that 40 percent of all local roads don't carry any more than 10 vehicles a day, and that many of the roads are "wholly nonessential." It recommended abandonment of 400,000 miles of such roads.

"Mileage of this character is extensive in Kansas, New Mexico, North Dakota and South Dakota," it continued. "In those four states alone an inventory reveals some 57,000 miles, about 27 per cent, of their local mileage that are considered nonessential."

Texas, the report said, has 173,694 miles of local rural highway that gets no federal aid—more than any other state. Others with big mileage that gets no federal help include Ohio, 65,592.

LISBON GIVES $1,115

LISBON, Feb. 21—Contributions to the March of Dimes program here continue to trickle in, Chairman Donald Dawes stated today in revealing the fund now stands at $1,115, or approximately $160 short of last year's total.

Templeton came to the United States in 1935 with Jack Hylton, British bandleader and impresario, and his concert career dates from his debut in Chicago's Orchestra Hall in 1936.

Lighter fun is combined with the noblest music in Templeton's recitals. It is said that he treats music as a human thing, as he realizes that music is one of the ingredients of living that make men rejoice.

On the day that Harvard's organist, E. Power Biggs, broadcast Templeton's Prelude, Variations and Fugue on an old French hymn, a Gallup Poll survey of American's favorite people included Templeton among the only four entertainers in a list of 50-odd notables. He listens to music, makes music, thinks music, talks music, composes music, has fun with music, every waking hour of the day, it has been said. In addition to his general programs, he is the only major artist to prepare special recital programs for children.
